Name of Organization	Non Grata
Description of organization	Around the name NON GRATA there have been different hushes and sushes for a long time. Already from the point of view of death of conventionalization of art it has embodied the horrible and unwanted disembodiment of human person, from which the meaninglessness of nowadays art, is pouring out. For those, whose world of arts starts from the point, where the art world ends, NONGRATA has been a liberator, the orphic gap in the seemingly unalterable course, which however betrays us, it is a cure from insect. The main point of the group is ethical - it is the image of primitivism, unpersonality and experimental creativity. The performances of the group take place according to the logic of avoiding codes. The presentations are physical texts, whose ways of orthography and reading are kept within limits of real actions by the group members. Aesthetical and provocative challenges are represented in places, where the Art World doesn't work.
Festivals and events	Non Grata organizes a performance art festival Diverse Universe since 2005 which is an offspring of festival Art Non Grata which started in 1998. Diverse Universe is now an Europe wide travelling festival collaborating with numerous different art event organizers in different countries.
	Also anual Film & Video Festival and Printmaking In are organized by Non Grata - these festivals are experimental and have goals of merging different mediums and creative approaches in making art.

Name of Organization	<h2 style="color: blue;">Alytus Art School & Alytus Biennial</h2>
Description of organization	Alytus Art School is 4 year art school for teenagers who attend the school additionally as complementary to the secondary school. there was a network of such schools in the Soviet times, but at the moment of capitalist development it was left for the individual rotting down. Alytus Art School was the only school in Lithuania to proceed into the way of experiments and performance. since 1993 the were organized outdoor events based on performance and sometimes on political direct action - joint political and artistic approach was developed through from the very beginning. at 2005 the tradition obtained the title of Alytus Biennial.
Festivals and events	The project Alytus Biennial is a logic continuation of numerous international experimental art festivals and events held in southern Lithuanian town Alytus since 1993. So far the essential element for the town is an absence of any artistic infrastructure (no galleries, art museums, nor even some exhibition hall in the city hosting 70 000 inhabitants – sic! - and even no any promises from the municipal authorities) the events were held directly in the streets and other urbanist common places. The essential element for any of those activities was political-artistic behavior and problematic. As a clearly defined event under the name of Alytus Biennial the event appeared in 2005. The basic idea for it was to continue experimental art tradition directly in the urban spaces of the town. So far it took the title “Beware!Politics!” it really stood somewhere in-between of arts and politics. The biennial also claimed for debienalization of arts and society so to respond to increasing number of various biennials appeared as art-value in itself. The communal approach of the artists community was taken as a highest value of the event to continue the development further. The biennial of 2007 was given to youth with a task simply to demystify it's importance an so to trap the sacred name of it. So far they did not succeed to destroy the biennial as the symbol of “serious culture” – next step was Art Strike Biennial.: to cease any artistic activity related to mimicking of Vilnius European Cultural Capital and/or any establishment in Lithuania in 2009. Establishment got pierced and Biennial turned into an activity to not produce arts every second the year. Late August 2011 we'll continue on a tradition to not to do arts and will held the world congress of DAMTP (Data Miners & Travailleurs Psychique). it's planned to lead towards the general strike in 2012 accomplishing it with creative experience and psychic liberation of humanity. Also supports whatsoever attempt to destroy any biennial event, any cultural capital celebration and also we aim to support general art strike as well.
